

Meet Rukhsana

Published & Upcoming Books

Rukhsana has 15 books ranging from picture books to young adult novels and all reflect her curiosity.

Her books range from serious/uplifting (The Roses in My Carpets, Wanting Mor) to discovery/uplifting (King for a Day, Muslim Child, Many Windows) to funny/uplifting (Big Red Lollipop, The Clever Wife, Elephant's Makeover, Ruler of the Courtyard).

If you haven't guessed the one word that describes them all is 'uplifting'! Her books have received dozens of international awards and accolades.

Rukhsana has been presenting for more than 23 years and is at home on the stage.

As a storyteller, all of her presentations are designed to make the audience laugh but also think! Even the most serious subjects include levity.

All of her presentations cover aspects of curriculum and expose the audience to deeper themes!

Rukhsana has now made the leap to virtual presentations so now it's even easier and less expensive to book her!

How to Get Published

A Course with Rukhsana Khan

Rukhsana has spent thirty years and thousands of dollars attending conferences and seminars on writing so you don't have to.

Called HOW TO GET PUBLISHED, it contains all the things she learned in eleven ~ half hour sessions.

Her informative course prepares you for publication and includes how to get an agent. She's held nothing back!

Schools Are Raving!

"I have hosted authors for many years. I have never had anyone come with whom people connected so much. From the children in Kindergarten to the early teens of the 7th grade, including their teachers, I heard rave reviews and praise..."
