

Jesus Radicals
On undoing oppression from a framework of anarchist politics and liberative Christianity

Rock! Paper! Scissors! Issue #7 Exit Left: Fugitivity and Destituent Power

Tweets by JESUSxRADICALS

Issue #7, guest curated by Katrina Kniss, is an exploration of fugitivity and destituent power. In a world shaped by the forces of racialized capitalism and the carceral state, how does the emergence of a world defined by life lived in common become possible? Where there is no geography untouched by borders, how do we carve out space for a new world? In this issue, we hope to explore the ways ideas of destituent power and fugitivity (concepts from the Italian autonomia movement and the Black radical tradition) can renew Christian anarchist thought and practice as well as ways the Christian anarchist tradition, at its best, can provide examples of destituent power in practice. See the full Issue here.

Call for Content— Retelling Ourselves

“What would it look like for us to not have empire and oppression shaping our present and future, robbing us of kinship and continuity of our history and legacy?” Consider contributing

The People's Library

Resources by the Community for the Community

Our

"People's Library" is a reader submitted collection of resources that explore the intersections of to Issue 8 of Rock! Paper! Scissors! which explores questions around the rootlessness of the modern condition and how people around the world are working to reclaim a sense of their legacy and connectedness to kindred and all of creation.

See the full call for content for details on how to contribute.

radical politics and Christianity with attention to intersectionality and undoing oppressions. We invite you to make a contribution to this ongoing project by submitting 5 resources that have influenced your political and spiritual development here.

Get Involved

Are you interested in antioppressive Christian thought and action? Would you like to put your creative gifts to use? We're looking for comrades to help create content, develop new projects, and widen our engagement. For a detailed description of the various roles we are seeking to fill see here.

We are always seeking submissions of original content for Rock! Paper!

Scissors!, our tri-annual web-publication exploring the intersections of anarchist politics and christian faith. See our call for content page for more information on the themes of upcoming issues and a detailed description of our submission guidelines for more information.

Home | About | Blog | Iconocast | Library | Gatherings | Donate | Contact | Comrades